

GreenBanyan

Investing in people

GreenBanyan is a Sydney-based boutique training & consulting organisation that provides coaching, mentoring and training to equip people in multi-cultural situations.

ABN 7357 597 3538

We train, coach & mentor people in developing business, leadership & life skills in cross cultural environments

Find out more

Call 0413 922 038
www.greenbanyan.com.au

We empower University staff and students to be culturally aware and proactive in leveraging cultural diversity towards building a collaborative atmosphere in campuses and beyond ...

Services for Universities & Students

- We deliver advanced team facilitation, stand up training, custom workshops, train the trainer sessions & innovative learning interventions for cross cultural awareness, sensitization and communication.
- Our training content includes settling into Australian universities, understanding Australian values in relation to living & studying in Australia, cross-cultural collaboration, & preparatory sessions to enter into a multicultural workforce.
- We employ adult learning techniques and tools leveraging our own material or sourced material.

Facilitator Bio:

Gladys Roach is Principal Consultant with GreenBanyan. Gladys is an intercultural transition specialist with a strong commitment to enhancing the experience of expats in Australia. She has over twenty years coaching, training and consultancy experience. Gladys believes that successful transitions between cultures result in increased student experience and enhance the student's capacity to enjoy the university learning experience and culture. Gladys has BA in History, Political Science and Psychology of Education from the University of Bombay, a graduate diploma in Community Education, Caulfield Institute of Technology and certificate in family mediation. She has lived in Australia for 46 years.

Benefits to Universities & Students

- Better communication despite accent and language barriers.
- Effective motivation through accurate interpretation of behaviours.
- Design of culturally aware strategies and environments.
- Accurate evaluation of culturally diverse students through a better understanding of presentation styles, behaviors, and use of language.
- Harmony and comfort in the classroom through an understanding of the motivations and perspectives of others.
- Minimise racial tension on campuses that can result from misinterpretations of behaviours.

Facilitator Bio:

Dipti Zachariah is Principal Consultant with GreenBanyan. She has been a cross cultural specialist, soft skills trainer, facilitator and coach for over 10 years. She is sought after for her facilitation skills. Her vibrant training capabilities have attracted large and small organisations alike as her clients. Her innovative design and delivery of training ensures that the benefits of training is carried forward beyond classrooms. Dipti has a Masters in international communication (Macquarie Uni), MBA (TAPMI, Manipal), B.Com (Bangalore Uni) and Certificate IV in training and assessments. Dipti has lived in Asia, North America and currently lives in Sydney. Her clients include corporate clients & staff relocation companies in Australia.